

ARMSTRONG MILLS CHURCH WEDDING

The wedding of Miss Margaret Dee Armstrong and Frederick Shannon Mills was solemnized last evening at 8 o'clock in the evening at Good Shepherd's Episcopal church by the Rev. William Webster Fleetwood, rector of the church.

The church was beautifully decorated in palms, ferns and Ascension lilies.

The chancel was banked in palms and ferns and on the altar were clusters of long stemmed Ascension lilies. The pews of the main aisle of the church were marked with white standards with clusters of lilies tied with tulle.

The master of ceremonies was John S. Lewis.

The ushers were Lawrence Dee and Hayes Matson.

The bridesmaids were Miss Mary Watson Abbott and Miss Daisy Theresa Kuhn.

Miss Dorothy Armstrong was her sister's maid of honor.

The bridal party entered the church with the ushers coming first, then the bridesmaids, followed by the maid of honor. Immediately preceding the bride, who entered with her uncle, Daniel Ensign, who gave the bride in marriage.

Mr. Mills and his friend, Clarence Ross of Los Angeles Cal., who served as best man, met the bride at the chancel steps.

The bride wore a superb gown, Brussels point applique mounted on chiffon and worn over charmeuse satin.

The gown was made with a princess effect in front and the back was cut in empire fashion. The sleeves were long and the bodice had a high, straight collar. The bride's tulle veil was fastened to her hair with a wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley, interspersed with orchids, depending were smaller bouquets of lilies of the valley. Her only jewels, a string of pearls.

Miss Armstrong wore an empire gown of pink chiffon cloth, trimmed with cream colored lace and crystal coral fringe. Her hat was a Shepherdess of green leaves and an American Beauty rose. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

The bridesmaids wore charming gowns of pink marquisette cloth, made in empire fashion and trimmed with silver and crystal lace. They wore Shepherdess hats of pink lilies of the valley and rosebuds, and instead of the usual bouquet, carried large French baskets of pink roses, ornamented with smaller rosebuds.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Mary Dee Armstrong, wore an empire gown of rose brocade charmeuse satin, with tulle of pale blue chiffon cloth embroidered in gold. Yoke and sleeves of chaunilly and gold lace. Mrs. Armstrong wore diamonds.

After the ceremony at the church, there was a reception at the Virginia. The house was beautifully decorated throughout. The halls were hung in southern smilax, bay trees were placed against the newel posts and the corners were banked with palms.

The drawing room where the bride and groom stood to receive congratulations had a frieze of southern smilax, and in front of the windows a bower of palms and ferns was built with a canopy of Ascension lilies over it. Ascension lilies were also arranged on the mantel.

The library was hung in crimson rambler roses.

The dining room was ornamented with southern smilax, and the flowers used were American Beauty roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills left later in the evening on a wedding trip, and upon their return will be at home in Los Angeles, Cal.

THIS IS CERTAIN.

The Proof That Ogden Readers Cannot Deny.

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of time? Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills cure permanently.

Home endorsement should prove undoubtedly the merit of this remedy. Years ago your friends and neighbors testified to the relief they had derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They now confirm their testimonials. They say time has completed the test.

Mrs. Betsy Shipley, 272 2nd St., Ogden, Utah, says: "I do not think there is any need for people to suffer from kidney complaint when Doan's Kidney Pills can be had. I doubt if anyone has suffered more severely from this disease than I. The worst symptoms of my case was a too frequent desire to void the kidney secretion. I also had backache and one doctor who treated me said I had a floating kidney. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured from BADON'S PHARMACY gave me immediate relief. This preparation is so effective that I only every kidney sufferer would try it."

Mrs. Shipley gave the above testimonial in July, 1906, and when interviewed in July, 1909, she said: "I still take pleasure in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills, for the cure they effected has been permanent. The statement I gave for publication in their favor three years ago still holds good."
